DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-29 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-23 of U.S. Patent No. 6751536B1B1. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because:

a. Both patent claims and the present claims include a system and method for enabling multistage decision making in preflight dispatch of a mobile platform. The aircraft, as recited in the patent is an example of a mobile platform.

b. Both patent and the present invention include the act of extending an entropy-based value of information (VOI) diagnostic model to preflight dispatch to accommodate one or more variables associated with preflight dispatch of a mobile platform, receiving one input relating to one or more observed symptoms indicative of one or more failed components of the mobile platform, determining a maintenance action for the mobile platform in accordance with the extended VOI diagnostic model and the one or more observed symptoms.

c. It should be noted that in claim 1 of the present application, the applicant claims: "automatically determining a maintenance action for the mobile platform in accordance with the extended VOI diagnostic model and the one or more observed symptoms. The patent claim 1 includes the step of determining a maintenance action for the mobile platform in accordance with the extended VOI diagnostic model and the one or more observed symptoms, and then the patent claim 3 includes the act of automatically determining a maintenance action for the mobile platform as stated above.
